Once you join the zoom meeting, you will automatically be entered into a waiting room. While in the waiting room, you will not hear the participants or the court already in the zoom proceeding nor will you be heard by the participants or the court. Please also note that depending on when you attempt to enter the zoom meeting, you may be in the waiting room until there is an appropriate break in the presentation of evidence to admit you. For example, individuals who appear in the waiting room during the direct examination of a witness may remain in the waiting room until after the direct examination is completed. After you are admitted to the zoom proceeding, the court will mute your device until after the presentation of evidence. Members of the public are not permitted to unmute their device unless directed to do so by the court.

Individuals who want to place their position in support of or in opposition to the application will be heard after evidence is presented to the court by the parties. When the court indicates that it is time for the public to be heard, the court will unmute one individual at a time. Please be patient as you will be muted until it is your turn to speak. Once you have placed your position on the record, you may disconnect from zoom by leaving the meeting, hanging up the phone, or the host will remove you from the proceeding.
